Renovations are coming to the clinic
March, 16th, 2010

Greetings!

Alvin Animal Clinic will be remodeling for a few weeks during the middle of this month. This is in an effort to better serve you, as always. Please be patient with us as we go through this process. We do not anticipate the need to change our schedule at this time, so we should be open for all of our normal business hours. There may be a few days of paint drying or dry wall dust in our hallways, but we will still be operating as usual. Please let our staff know if you have any allergies, asthma, or breathing conditions that may be triggered by the renovations. We will do our best to schedule anyone with those concerns on days the fumes or dust will not be a problem. Thank you for your continued patronage and understanding. We are very excited to see the finishing touches and how this will enhance your experience with us.

Sincerely,

The Alvin Animal Clinic Team
